WESTERLY FARMERS INDIGNANT

Allege that Auto Thieves Loot Their Orchards—omplaint to Josiah Thaw will Be Investigated—Wheel Thief Gets Off with Fine—Interest in Saturday's Ball Games—East Lyme Woman Injured.

The farmers in the vicinity of Westerly have sustained considerable loss by the stripping of their apple orchards by automobile parties, who skim before the highways, stop and whip the trees of the fruit and then rush away without recognizing the owner of the stolen fruit. During the past week a big red automobile has stopped three times at the orchard of William S.
McDonough, which is located about midway between Ashaway and Hopkinton City. On Monday the number of this machine was obtained and Mr. McDonough called to Westerly Thursday for the purpose of ascertaining the ownership of the machine and for prosecution. It was learned that the automobile was owned by Josiah Thaw, a summer resident of Watch Hill.
Mr. McDonough was advised to have consultation with Mr. Thaw before commencing legal proceedings and to effect a peaceable settlement if possible. Mr. Thaw was telephoned and stated that he owned two automobiles; one bore the registry number taken by Mr. McDonough. Mr. Thaw said he would investigate and if it was found to his satisfaction that any one in his employ was guilty of taking the apples, Mr. McDonough would be satisfactorily recompensed as well as not countenance any such actions as had been alleged. Mr. McDonough was satisfied to leave the matter with Mr.
Thaw, feeling confident that he would receive fair treatment.

Charles Rhodes, the Wakefield young man who was arrested in Providence for the theft of a bicycle owned by Charles Monico in Westerly, and who pleaded guilty in the Third district court, Wednesday, happened to have a fair previous record, which Judge Williams ascertained upon personal investigation, during suspension of sentence.

He therefore escaped a probable sentence of six months in the Providence county jail, and was ordered to pay a fine of $10 and costs of $12. The fine was paid by the young man's mother and he was released.
Rhodes has been summoned as a witness in the Charlestown bribery case which is to be heard at the session of the superior court next week.

With Stonington leading Westerly by only one game in the contest for the championship of the Rhode Island Connecticut baseball league, there is more than ordinary interest in the two games that are to be played between these teams in Stonington Saturday afternoon. There has been a general strengthening of the teams and both will enter the double-headed contest with expectation of winning two games. Should Westerly win both the positions of the two leaders of the league will be changed with Westerly on top, but should Stonington by some hook or crook take one game, of course their lead would be increased and it would then be necessary for Westerly to take both games from the Stonington team on the home grounds on Saturday of next week to make a tie for the championship.
But Westerly will make strong effort to win both games at Stonington, and when the final scheduled games are played in Westerly to have the advantage of the home of one game and chances for pennant winning increased.

Westerly will take to Stonington Glendon, who has been pitching for the home team of late, also Ayres, pitcher for the Hope High school and later of the champion team of the Providence Inter-City league, and also Broyer, who has played at shortstop with Ayres. It is also expected that at least five hundred Westerly rooters will go to Stonington, Saturday, and help by their encouragement to win from Stonington.

It is understood that Stonington will present a couple of pitchers new to this league and that one of them will be Tatro of the champion Jewett City team of the Eastern Connecticut league.

Miss Fanny Dean of East Lyme had a narrow escape from death late Wednesday afternoon at the Kingston station, while the platform was filled with people who had attended the fair.
While attempting to alight from the Colonial express while in motion, she made a misstep and fell to the ground between the rail and the platform. A man nearby rushed to her assistance and kept her close to the platform until the train passed, but not in time to save her from serious and lasting injury.

Miss Dean's right hand was run over by one wheel of the car and three fingers and the thumb crushed. In an unconscious condition, Miss Dean was carried into the waiting room and a physician summoned. Temporary treatment was given and she was taken on the Gilt Edge express to New London to the Memorial hospital. It is believed at the hospital that the remainder of the hand can be saved.

Buffalo Bill in His Old Home.
In the coming to Leavenworth with his circus—sumptuous, resplendent and triumphant—Buffalo Bill, remembered to early settlers as William Cody, and, incidentally, admired by them for the success he has made, will be back again among familiar haunts and faces. It was here that Buffalo Bill, scout and circus man, spent his boyhood days. It was as a scout, working westward from Leavenworth, that his fame grew and broadened.
William Cody as a youth was given a job by Alexander Caldwell, freighting across the plains. He adapted himself to the prairies and became a part of them. As a frontiersman he helped to blaze the trail across the border.
He knew Indians and their customs, as well as we know those of the neighbor who neglects to draw the blinds.

In the days before the civil war the Cody family lived and was respected in Leavenworth, and Leavenworth has followed closely and with interest the career of Buffalo Bill—Leavenworth (Kan.) Times.
